The African Institute of International Law (AIIL) and the African Arbitration Association (AfAA) have partnered to host a three-part virtual workshop series on international investment law in Africa.

The workshops are targeted at government officials, academics, practitioners, students, and any other lawyers or non-lawyers, with an interest in international investment law.

The first workshop will be an introduction to international investment law and will cover history and context, jurisdiction, substantive standards, and dispute resolution. It will be held virtually on

3 March 2022

More information on the workshop, including how to register, will be published in January 2022.

Places will be limited, so please save the date to avoid disappointment.
